

Evaluation EC4H Tutor Training Workshop: June 2012

Eight senior healthcare professionals from 4 NHS Scotland Boards attended a 2-day workshop in advanced communication teaching for EC4H programme tutors.

Comments:

- Great course-really enjoyed it.
- Most important aspect was the calm, friendly, supportive learning environment that was created
- It was important to have done the 2-day communication course myself first.
- I think it is a good idea to teach facilitation of role play on one day and interactive demonstration on the other so the two teaching approaches are clear
- It would be difficult to see ways to improve this course. The role playing and experiential learning are both key. I am interested in the underlying theory but can use the literature list to look into that myself.
- I struggled initially to grasp the difference between the two different teaching approaches and when to use them (role play and interactive demonstration). Maybe a quick explanation at the start would help?
- A one day refresher course in a few years time might be nice
